

MARINE OPERATIONS

- Continually aim for zero spills and unplanned releases to the marine environment
- Assess and report on biologically important areas, including marine mammal migration paths, spawning grounds, sanctuary areas or other ecologically sensitive locations
- Commission environmental impact assessments to understand potential impacts on the environment
- Employ protective species observers and utilize passive acoustic monitoring
- Require each chartered vessel to undergo an International Marine Contractors Association (IMCA) or Offshore Vessel Inspection Database (OVID) audit